

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

WHAT: Buffy Bot Publishing will host their second annual cNFTcon, an accessible blockchain & NFT conference.

WHEN: October 8-9, 2022

WHERE: Las Vegas Convention Center

WHY: cNFTcon offers a chance to experience and learn about blockchain and NFTs.

(Major companies like Google, Amazon, Youtube, ect are all developing in the blockchain and NFT space!) Attendees will learn a number of topics in the space including the basics of blockchain, artificial intelligence, NFTs, DAOs, staking, digital ID, security, Metaverse, and how all of these will change or impact business, government, education, economy and entertainment.

This is the first time cNFTcon will be hosted in person and partners include the UNLV Office of Economic Development, zenGate Global, Clay Nation, Forgotten, IAMX, and Beyond Rockets.

An added bonus to attending is the cNFTcon passport program which will reward participants with collectible NFTs. Participants can expect to learn:

- The basics of blockchain (i.e. creating a digital wallet, what is digital identity, etc.)
- By networking with some of the 140+ exhibitors currently creating in WEB3
- From panel & workshop topics around metaverse, nfts, art, culture, gaming, decentralized finance and a number of other topics.

Something that makes cNFTcon so special is its accessibility with GA tickets at $25 and Premium tickets for $60. You can purchase your tickets here.
